

ad is a tomato a d tossed with and fresh herbs—so ht supper, or a sensatio plants are weighed down I ds, I make bread salads often, ing riffs on the classic Italian panzanella, made with a hearty I bread, and Middle Eastern fattoush, made with pita. But I don't nks to a range of bread styles, so many beautiful and ieties (see p. 61 for some of my favorites), add-in ives and fennel, this pretty dish is endless n for more details about the building b I salad. I've provided a few recipes, b e my salads exactly the same ever formula based on what I'm my garden. And afte ty dish,

